Currently the world is undergoing drastic change.

“My usual ways aren’t working.”

“Things were working so well until now, what happened?”

“I’m worried about what this world is coming to.”

Conventional beliefs, common sense, and societal values are wavering.

We are facing an era of Chaos.

Each one of us is being asked how to think and what to do in these times of trial.

One thing is for certain.

When you change, the world changes.

The two occur at the same time.

You can change the future with your own hands.

You can open up a new world.

This unwavering hope and practice method can be yours.

Profile of the Lecturer

Keiko Takahashi, born in Tokyo in 1956, explains that at the foundation of the many challenges that modern society confronts, lies a hollowing out of the human being as many have lost sight of their origin of their existence as a soul that embodies eternal life. She has developed both a perspective of human beings and a perspective of the world that guide the recovery of that origin to compile them into a comprehensive Study of the Soul. She expounds the Soul Doctrine that introduces a way to live each day as an opportunity for developing the soul and has formed a system of practice principles and methods that serve this purpose. The dialogues that she conducts during her lectures reveal the paths of those who have transformed themselves and their lives to make positive contributions to society, inspiring and guiding participants to affirm the existence of the soul.

Keiko Takahashi leads GLA where she elaborates on these studies through various study opportunities, including lectures and personal guidance. She accompanies individuals on their path, across several demographics and career types, addressing professionals in business management, medicine, education, and other fields based upon her insight toward the future of Japan and the world. Keiko Takahashi’s lectures for the general public have been ongoing since their inception in 1992, with the number of attendants exceeding one million.
